NXP and Supplier are hereinafter referred to severally as a "Party" and jointly as the "Parties".

1) ACCEPTANCE.

a) NXP's purchase order, including these Terms, is NXP's offer to Supplier. Upon acceptance by Supplier, either by acknowledgement, commencement of services, shipment of goods, by delivery of any items ordered, or otherwise, NXP's purchase order, including these Terms, is a binding contract ("Agreement") between the Parties.

b) NXP's offer is expressly limited to the terms of this Agreement and, except with respect to an Existing Agreement (defined below), no other terms other than the Agreement will apply to Supplier's provision or NXP's use of the goods and/or services. Any other additional or different terms and/or conditions that Supplier seeks to impose or incorporate, including in any click-through, wrappers, quotations, order acknowledgment, invoices, delivery notes, online terms, or other communications or documents, or which are implied by law, trade, custom, practice or course of dealings, are expressly rejected by NXP and of no force and effect. For clarity, Supplier understands and agrees that all such Supplier terms will be considered material alterations to the Agreement and are void.

c) If the Parties have executed a separate written agreement signed by both Parties governing Supplier's provision of such goods and/or services to NXP (the "Existing Agreement"), the Existing Agreement will govern Supplier's provision of such applicable goods and/or services to NXP and these Terms will only be applicable when referenced or otherwise incorporated into such Existing Agreement. Any goods and/or services not covered by the Existing Agreement, in whole or in part, will be governed by this Agreement.

2) DELIVERY.

a) TIME IS OF THE ESSENCE FOR THE PURPOSES OF SUPPLIER'S OBLIGATIONS UNDER THIS AGREEMENT. Supplier will make no deliveries before the agreed delivery date(s) and NXP will not be liable for any costs caused by or related to the production, installation, assembly, commissioning, or any other work related to such goods prior to delivery. If goods are not delivered by the Delivery Date, NXP will be entitled, in addition to its other rights and remedies, to terminate, without liability, this Agreement as to items not yet shipped, by written notice (email acceptable) effective upon receipt by Supplier. In this instance, NXP may purchase substitute goods elsewhere and charge Supplier for any loss incurred. If it appears that Supplier will not meet the Delivery Date, Supplier will (i) immediately notify NXP and (ii) ship by air freight or other expedited routing, at Supplier's expense, if and in the manner requested by NXP. If only a portion of the goods are available for shipment to meet the Delivery Date, Supplier will notify NXP and ship the available goods, unless otherwise directed by NXP. NXP may return any unauthorized under-shipment or any over-shipment at Supplier's risk and expense. Where the Agreement provides for the installation, commissioning, or any other work to be carried out by Supplier, such work must be performed: (1) in a careful, efficient, and workmanlike manner, (2) in compliance with all applicable laws, codes, and regulations, and (3) using proper materials. As a minimum requirement, all goods must comply with all applicable laws and applicable quality and certification standards.

Supplier agrees to provide all updates and modifications to the Software to NXP during the term of the Agreement without additional charges. Supplier understands and agrees that any terms contained in any click-through, click-wrap, EULA, online terms, or other purported agreement delivered or made available (whether electronically or otherwise) with the Software (including any updates, upgrades, bug fixes, or other related deliveries) licensed under the Agreement or any services provided under the Agreement will not apply, regardless of any electronic or deemed acceptance by NXP.

3) PACKING AND SHIPMENT.

Supplier will pack, mark and ship the goods in such a manner to prevent damage during transport and which facilitates unloading, tracking, handling and storage. Unless otherwise specified by NXP, when the price under this Agreement is based on the weight of ordered goods, such price covers net weight of material ordered only. Any charges for boxing, crating, handling, storage or other packing requirements must be stated separately on Supplier's invoice. In addition to any other relevant information, Supplier must mark all containers with necessary lifting, handling and shipping information and also purchase order numbers, release numbers, dates of shipment, and the names of the consignee and consignor. An itemized packaging sheet must accompany each shipment.

If any such change causes an increase or decrease in the cost of, or the time required for performance of this Agreement, an equitable adjustment will be made in the Agreement price or delivery schedule, or both, and the Agreement will be modified in writing accordingly. No claim by Supplier for adjustment will be valid unless asserted within 20 days (or other period that may be extended upon NXP's written approval) from the date of receipt by Supplier of the notification of change provided. Nothing in this Section will excuse Supplier from proceeding with the Agreement as changed or amended.

5) INSPECTION; RESPONSIBILITY FOR GOODS.

a) Supplier's facilities, equipment, and the goods and services purchased and to be purchased under this Agreement are subject to NXP's inspection and acceptance. Payment for the goods shipped and services performed will not constitute acceptance. Goods and services will only be deemed accepted when they have been counted, inspected, evaluated, and tested by NXP and found by NXP to be in conformance with this Agreement. Goods rejected or goods supplied in excess of those ordered or delivered in advance of the delivery schedule may, in addition to NXP's other rights, be returned to Supplier at Supplier's expense, including all expenses of unpacking, examining, repacking and reshipping. If NXP receives goods or services with defects or nonconformities, whether apparent on inspection, then, without limiting any other remedies, NXP reserves the right to require, at its option, re-performance, a refund, or a replacement, as well as transportation costs and payment of damages. Nothing contained in this Agreement will relieve Supplier from its obligations of testing, inspection, and quality control.

b) Irrespective of any prior inspections or the point of delivery pursuant to the applicable Incoterm, Supplier bears all risks of loss, damage, or destruction for non-conforming goods. Supplier also bears the same risks with respect to goods rejected by NXP. NXP will be responsible for loss only to the extent attributable to the gross negligence of its employees that was ultimately proven by a court of law.

NXP will not pay for services, deliverables, or goods not described in the Agreement, and the dollar amount specified on the relevant purchase order will be the maximum amount Supplier may invoice to NXP.

b) NXP will notify Supplier in writing (email acceptable) within 30 days of receiving a deliverable whether it accepts or rejects that deliverable. NXP may reject any deliverable which does not comply with the description of work or with NXP's standards. If NXP fails to notify Supplier within the specified time, NXP will be deemed to have accepted the deliverable. If NXP rejects it, NXP may, in its sole discretion, either terminate the Agreement pursuant to Section 17 or allow Supplier an opportunity to revise the deliverable to render it acceptable to NXP.

c) At least once a month, or upon NXP's request, Supplier will report to NXP on the status of the work, including any deliverables. On reasonable notice, NXP may inspect Supplier's work in progress and receive copies of it.

d) In the event that any applicable law requires NXP to withhold taxes or similar deductions (including interest, penalties, and additions thereto) imposed on payments made or to be made by NXP to Supplier, NXP may deduct such taxes from such payments provided that such taxes are paid to the appropriate tax authorities. In such event NXP shall furnish Supplier with tax receipts issued by the appropriate tax authorities to enable Supplier to support (if applicable) a claim for credit against income taxes as well as to enable Supplier to document (if necessary) Supplier's compliance with tax obligations in any jurisdiction outside Supplier's home country.
